

"Of strategic importance to the sustainable creation of wealth for business organizations such as ours, is the need to play in the commanding heights of the national economy. In Nigeria, these include Telecoms, Oil & Gas and Financial Services. The risk of simultaneous, multi-sectoral systemic distress or even collapse is lower, thereby affording our business the unique ambience to shift resources – technology, people, capital – efficiently and economically across our investments and in response to emerging opportunities in our economy. This has been the basis of our group's continued success over time".
